

Can a person dismantle a photovoltaic panel

Overview

Homeowners should not attempt to remove solar panels themselves. Professional removal protects your equipment, your warranties, and most importantly your safety. Will removing panels void my solar system warranty?

If your work is handled by professionals, your warranty shouldn't be. Disassembling solar panels requires a careful approach to ensure safety and efficiency, and it involves specific steps and considerations. You get a single, experienced crew managing the full process—no subcontractors, no confusion, no headaches. This necessity might stem from planned roof maintenance, system upgrades, or preparations for selling the property. Modern photovoltaic (PV) modules typically contain:
