

Is it true that solar power is free

Overview

Here's the reality: "Free solar" typically means solar with no upfront cost—not solar you'll never pay for. These offers often refer to solar leases or power purchase agreements (PPAs), financing options where a solar company installs panels on your property without requiring a down. When something is advertised as “free,” it usually comes with a few strings attached—free solar panels are no exception. You. You've probably seen ads or door-knockers claiming you can get “free solar panels. ” It sounds amazing, who wouldn't want free clean energy?

But here's the thing: when it comes to solar, “free” often comes with strings attached. At Terra Energy, we believe in being upfront. However, the federal government does not offer any programs for free home solar panel installations nor does the government require companies to grant. With energy costs on the rise and growing interest in sustainable living, many companies are promoting "free" solar programs to attract attention. The promise is certainly appealing — so much so that it might seem too good to be true, or even suspicious.
