

Tik Tok photovoltaic panel scam

Overview

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. Or they might try to sign you up for a “free” program to make your home more energy efficient with. This information is AI generated and may return results that are not relevant. It does not represent TikTok's views or advice. TikTok video from Techspace Energy (@techspace_energy): “Discover the truth behind. Scams, schemes and straight-up fraud abound in the dark underbelly of an otherwise light-filled industry. The scams vary, but here's the gist: someone claiming to be with the government or your utility company promises big savings on your utility bills from solar energy. As solar grows in popularity, more scammers are targeting consumers. Why trust EnergySage?

Your social media feed is probably full of them: ads promising free solar panels, guaranteed savings, or special government programs that'll pay you to go solar. Some even. Other ads suggested residents could snag a Tesla Powerwall — a home battery system that retails for more than $8,000 — at no cost or even make money selling solar energy back to the grid.
